Selection:

Each year, two outstanding documentary or narrative feature projects with strong festival and distribution potential will be selected for the WIP Editing Labs. These projects will be identified through Film Bazaar, WIF India's network, and other strategic festival and market partnerships. The focus will be on projects that exhibit powerful storytelling, a unique cinematic voice, and potential for global reach.

Support Offered:

Selected projects will receive a comprehensive post-production support package, including:

- A flexible post-production grant to aid editing, color correction, or sound design.
- A 4-week virtual mentorship with globally acclaimed editors such as Tom Cross (Whiplash, La La Land), Douglas Blush (20 Feet from Stardom, Miss Americana), and Lee Smith (Dunkirk, Oppenheimer). The mentors will engage in weekly one-on-one sessions with the filmmakers, offering feedback on structure, pacing, rhythm, and storytelling.
- Full access to the Adobe Creative Cloud toolkit, ensuring that filmmakers have the best-in-class tools for a seamless post-production process.
- Strategic brand alignment with Adobe and WIF India, ensuring meaningful association and impact.

Exposure

Work in Progress (WIP) Editing Labs

Visibility & Impact:

- Adobe and WIF India will receive end-credit mentions on the final cut of the film.
- Films developed through the lab will be showcased at key industry events and festivals, including Film Bazaar, TIFF Industry, and WIF India spotlight showcases, offering critical visibility and discovery opportunities.
- Additionally, Adobe-supported lab films will be highlighted in case studies, media releases, and Adobe's creative community platforms to inspire future storytellers.

Anecdote (from Guneet Monga Kapoor):

"During the journey of producing "Period. End of Sentence" and The Elephant Whisperers, having an editing mentor was an absolute game changer. We had access to our mentor for 16 weeks through weekly calls, which played a crucial role in shaping the films' structure and narrative, ultimately setting them up for success. That guidance, particularly in the post-production phase, was invaluable and helped these stories achieve global resonance. We hope to recreate this magic for emerging voices through the WIP Labs."

This initiative reflects WIF India and Adobe's shared belief that powerful editing is the soul of cinematic storytelling — and that underrepresented creators, when given the right tools and mentorship, can deliver work of extraordinary calibre to the world stage.
